Something in the Wind.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The Portsmouth Chronicle learns that orders have been received to prepare the iron-clad Passaconway, now on the stocks here, for sea as soon as possible; also that the steamers Minnesota, Masongo and Galena be fitted out for sea immediately.

LATEST BY MAIL.

Major-General Judson Kilpatrick, of New Jersey, has been appointed Minister to Chili, and Colonel Edwin F. Cook, of the same State, secretary of legation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:

No retirement or repose was allowed the President yesterday: the number who called, both officials and others, was unusually large, embracing many females seeking to secure Executive pardon for officials. Not being able to give separate audiences, the doors were opened at one and a half o'clock for all to enter. General Sickles, Kilpatrick, Senator Wilson, and General Longstreet were granted audiences with the President. The number of pardons now reaching the department is very large, and the more pressing engagements of the President consequent upon the early meeting of Congress has compelled him to let them remain in abeyance for the time being, except in some instances.

The lobby representatives, generally known as the outside Congress, are already entering here, preparatory to entering upon a vigorous campaign at the ensuing session. An unusual wide field for operations offers, and log-rolling combinations are being formed in proportion.

The guard have been at length removed from the residence of the Secretary of War. Companies F and H of the Fourth U. S. Artillery have relieved the Veteran Reserves at the Executive mansion, who are to be mustered out of service.

Senator Sumner, of Massachusetts, acts as if he were master of the situation. He is constantly sending on here messages and directions to men in positions as to what shall be done. Negro suffrage is in his budget.

The course of some Southern States in refusing to adopt the President's policy in regard to the rebel debt and the Constitutional amendment, has greatly embarrassed him and impaired his influence in relation to the immediate recognition of Congressmen in the South. In time things may get better—much depends on the South itself.

The Confederate General George D. Johnston and W. R. Staples, Confederate Congressman from Virginia, were pardoned to-day.

The remarks of the President to Judge Reade, of North Carolina, were made upon much reflection on the facts in the whole case.

The St. Louis Democrat, of the 9th instant, announces the first case of cholera in that city, John Bridger, a well-known citizen, about fifty years of age having died of it. It is hardly thought probable that this was a clear case of Asiatic cholera.

Twelve hundred of the ladies of Norfolk and Portsmouth, headed by Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Mrs. James Murdaugh, Mrs. Mary A. B. Barron, Mrs. David J. Godwin, have signed and forwarded a petition to President Johnson to pardon Jefferson Davis.

—The following appears in the Boston Commonwealth: "It is a pleasing instance of the transmission of noble qualities from father to son that the two younger sons of the late Horace Mann, upon the gift, by their brother, of his property in the Concord Bank, through the recent robbery, at once informed him that one-third of their joint bequest should be his."

—The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette says the President will present his views at length on the negro suffrage question in his message to Congress. The same correspondent says there are rumors of a general amnesty to those States which repudiate the rebel debts and adopt the constitutional amendment.

—It is ascertained, from an official source, that the army of the United States has not been reduced so low as seems to have been supposed. Its full and available strength exceeds 180,000 men, of which one half is on each side of the Mississippi river.

—War has been declared between Spain and Chili, and the Spanish Admiral has declared all the ports of Chili under blockade since the 24th ultimo. The Chilian Congress has authorized a loan of $20 000,000, to prosecute hostilities, and have invested the Executive with unlimited powers to raise men and purchase and equip ships of war.

—Maximilian's ambassador to Italy was officially received by King Victor Emanuel on the 22d ultimo. The latter wished all happiness "to the Emperor, to his family, and to Mexico."

State Items.

The Charlotte Democrat says:

"Considering that probably no section of the State was more strongly opposed to Gov. Holden heretofore than this section, we think his present vote in Mecklenburg and surrounding counties a good one. Last year Mecklenburg gave Holden only 112 votes and Vance 1690—now Holden gets 285 and Worth 534. Last year Holden did not carry a county in this section—now he carries Cabarrus, Gaston and (it is reported) Union, and loses Lincoln by only 14 votes. We have no reliable news as to the vote for Governor in Union—only rumor.

It would appear that the negroes in Charlotte are greatly in want of work. A load of wood was thrown out in front of the Democrat office the other day, and in the course of a few hours there were ten applications from able-bodied freedmen to cut it up. These negroes have left good homes in the country where they had plenty to eat, and are lying about town in idleness, only occasionally getting a little job of work. The farmers need laborers—many have had to discontinue farming for the want of labor—while hundreds and thousands of able-bodied negro men are lounging about the towns and cities. The Legislature must take some action which will compel negroes who do not properly belong to town and have no homes in it, to leave and go to the country for work.

We mentioned last week the fact of a citizen of Rowan county having been found hanging to a tree near Salisbury. The facts of the case are that on Monday morning Mr. Thos. Hyde proceeded to his barn apparently in good health and spirits. On arriving there he took a log chain, fastened it to a beam, tied the other end around his neck and leaped from the window of the barn. He had a fall of seven feet, and when discovered he was dead. The reason of this suicide seems to be clearly traced to religious excitement.

We are pained to learn from the Wilmington papers of the occurrence of a most distressing accident, which occurred at Argyle, Roteson county, a day or two ago, by which a little girl, named Lizzie McRae, youngest child of A. McRae, Jr., Esq., of this place, got burned to death.

We know no more of the particulars than that a little negro girl was burning some straw in the yard, and that little Lizzie's clothes caught fire, occasioning her death, or such injuries as caused her death before assistance could be rendered.

Jasper Packard, 128th Indiana Vol., has been assigned to, and taken command of the District of Western North Carolina, with head quarters at Salisbury He is assisted in the performance of his duties by gentlemen. Capt. Provlance acting as A. A. & I. G. & District Provost Marshal, and Lieut. Paul, Adjutant Post.

A letter in the Wilmington Dispatch, dated Fayetteville, speaks of the late session of the Presbyterian Synod in that town as follows:

"The Synod of the Presbyterian church in North Carolina convened in this place on last Wednesday evening. Owing to the unsettled state of affairs there was not as large an attendance as usual, but most of the prominent and distinguished ministers of this denomination were present. The opening sermon was preached by the Rev. Joseph M. Atkinson of Raleigh, who fully sustained his high reputation as a pulpit orator.

Rev. Colin Shaw was chosen Moderator. On Friday and Saturday a spirited and impotrtant discussion took place upon the subject of the state of church. Incidentally the religious condition of the freedmen was considered and resolutions adopted requring unintermitted labor on the part of the church in their behalf. Their religious condition was reported not satisfactory at present, but hopes were expressed that upon the subsidence of the excitement consequent upon the great change in their position and the continued efforts of Christians in their behalf much good would be effected.

The subject of re-union with the Northern branch of the church was largely discussed and with great ability by all the leading members of the Synod. It was finally determined to make no overtures in the matter, and as the Northern church had rendered reunion impossible by declaring the Southern church out of fellowship until it acknowledged the sin of slavery, to await the rescision of this action on their part. The discussion was conducted with great kindness and in a Christian spirit, but there could be no question of the opinion of the Synod on the point of reunion, the division having taken place primarily upon the action of the Northern church upon the sin of slavery. The question under discussion was whether it was proper for the Southern church to make advances in favor of reunion. No action being taken the matter remains in statu quo, awaiting the action of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the South."

—The Wheeling Intelligencer says political emissaries are on foot to compass a re-union of Virginia and West Virginia.

THE CITY.

☞ Persons in city and country are requested, at all times, to furnish us verbal or written information of any events of public interest which may transpire in their neighborhoods, or of which they may have knowledge.

BROWNLEY, BURTON & Co., of Petersburg, who are conducting a wholesale grocery and commission business, appear in our columns this morning by advertisement. It is an old firm and no doubt those who transact business with them will find their supplies to be of the first quality.

We may say to our cotemporaries of the Express and Index that the commercial men of the "Cockade" are held in high estimate in this section. Our State has heretofore transacted an immense amount of business in Petersburg, but most of the old established houses appear to have been wiped out during the war or so maimed as not to be known in the field of present enterprise. Scott, Harrison & Co., princely gentlemen as well as merchants, Davis & Co., McIlwaine, Paul, Donnans Johnston, Pannill, Kull & Sons, and a host of others, once in the front rank and holding extensive connections here, do not appear to have been reconstructed. If the old and reliables are gone the way of all flesh, we fear it will be long before Petersburg will see their like again.

AT THE DEPOT of the North Carolina railroad the bustle and stir observable a month since have been greatly lessened. During the military reign there, activity could be seen at every turn of the eye, but now things present a more subdued aspect. There are, however, still signs of vitality. The building formerly used as an engine house has been appropriated by the company for use as offices and depot, and answers those purposes very well. Improvements are going forward also in the matter of platforms and the like. Cotton, rosin and other products are daily coming down on the trains, and we are glad to see such evidences of the good time which is to come. The truth is, a wise public policy is all we want in order to rebuild private interests. Without it we can accomplish nothing—with it, only a few years will be requisite to give us unexampled prosperity.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.—We transfer to our columns for the benefit of all whom it may concern, the following:

LINCOLNTON, Nov. 1, 1865.

The Grand Division of North Carolina Sons of Temperance, will meet at Jacob's Fork Division, Catawba county, on the 6th of December next, at 1 o'clock, p. m. All P. W. P.'s in good standing, whether their divisions are in operation or not, are earnestly requested to attend.

R. N. DAVIS, G. Scribe.

This excellent order is said to be in a very dilapidated condition, the membership of the grand as well as subordinate formations having been much weakened by the work of the past four years. We understand Raleigh will be worthily represented in this first convocation of the order since the restoration of peace.

BUSINESS NOTICE.—Having to pay cash for everything in the management of our business, we must do a cash business or none at all. Many of our city subscribers are in arrears and we have sent our bills until we are tired of it. We now give fair notice that the paper will be stopped in all cases where the subscription is not paid when presented. Persons at a distance, if of the class mentioned, must remit money to pay the subscription or their paper will be discontinued.

All persons indebted to the Progress office or the proprietor, by note or open account, are requested to settle the same at once.

THE STREETS.—Through the agency of either the military or civil authorities, some of our streets have been much improved within a short time. It is particularly observable on west Davie street, beginning at Fayetteville and continuing to the North Carolina depot. The deep cuts which were seen along that thoroughfare during the summer have been filled up, much to the relief of pedestrians as well as the operators of vehicles. We trust the work of improvement in the respect mentioned will be continued until all our thoroughfares have been put in equally good condition.

TOBACCO.—It may be of interest to the holders of "the weed" in this vicinity to know that a letter from the commissioner of internal revenue, addressed to H. H. Helper, the assessor for this district, says:—"All manufactured tobacco in your district should be inspected and branded prior to sale and consumption, and you should direct all such to be seized when found under conditions violating instructions."

WHAT'S THE MATTER?—On inquiry at fountain head we were informed that the bridges on the line of railroad from this city had all been repaired so far as not to obstruct the transportation of passengers or freight. This being true, what produces such great confusion in the receipt of the mails? We seldom see Newbern or Wilmington papers until they are several days old. There is a screw loose somewhere.

AN IMPORTANT offering of government possessions will be made on the 28th inst., as may be seen by consulting the notice of the medical purveyor, Dr. D. G. Rush.

A CANDIDATE.—Mr. John H. Boner is announced to-day as a candidate for the position of engrossing clerk of the Senate. He has capacities of a fine order.

A NEW NOVEL.—Messrs. W. B. Smith & Co., of the Southern Field and Fireside Publishing House, in this city, yesterday sent us a copy of Mrs. Fanny Murdaugh Downing's new novel, "NAMELESS," just issued from their press. Of course we have had only opportunity to read a part of it connectedly, but even in such a review enough of the style of this new candidate in the literary world is discernible to fix her as a woman of rare genius. We shall not detract from the pleasure of Mrs. Downing's Carolina readers by revealing the plot of this story—they must be left to enjoy in full the peculiar pleasure which we have realized, heightened in proportion as we have advanced towards more perfect comprehension of the complete work. It is to be confessed that her imaginative faculties, though surprisingly ripe and refined in use, are well balanced by a clear conception that one of the special trusts of such labor is the developement, not repression of nobility, goodness, truth, and virtue. It is not an objectless book—head and no heart—a magazine of licentiousness—but a sweet story, full of pathos as instruction, and replete with both qualities.

Comparisons often afford no illustration, but we are entirely satisfied that the present effort of Mrs. Downing will give her a claim to favoritism with the public exceeding that reached by Mrs. M. E. Braddon and writers of her school. Without their overstrained pictures and excessive, not to write ridiculous ornamentalism, the new light has contrived to irradiate her pages with a deep, profound interest.

We hope for the interest of Southern literature, the intrinsic merit of the volume, the enterprise and taste of the publishers, and the entertainment of the reading world, that "Nameless" may run through several editions. The typography and binding are handsome, and do credit to Southern skill. Get a copy and read it.

A CHANCE to obtain many articles of household necessity and ornament will be afforded by the sale of property of the late Wm. J. Lougee, which is advertised to come off next Monday. The effects to be disposed of are generally as good as new.

CARDS, Circulars, Handbills, Programs, &c., printed at the Progress Job Office cheaper, by twenty-five per cent, than elsewhere. If those who have printing to do will give us a call, we will satisfy them of the fact.

—In the Georgia Convention Mr. S. Cohen—postmaster at Savannah under Buchanan—introduced a proposition to pay the rebel war debt by selling the Western and Atlantic railroad. This remarkable proposition is reported to have been originated by Ex-Governor Joseph E. Brown. It appears to have been defeated.

—In New York, on Saturday, Edward B. Ketchum was arraigned in the Court of General Sessions, and pleaded guilty to forgery in the third degree. His counsel moved for a postponement of the sentence until Ketchum's testimony was taken in a number of civil suits now pending, and stated that evidence would be furnished to the court showing that he was a young man of correct habits previous to the commission of the offence. District Attorney Hall assented to the motion, and the Recorder postponed the sentence.

DAILY PROGRESS.

RALEIGH, N. C.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 15, 1865.

They Know Their Friends.

The copperheads of the North seem to know who their friends are down here. The New York News, a paper that was unfriendly to the government during the whole progress of the war, and one that would have rejoiced at the success of the rebellion, in its issue of the 10th, before the result of our election could have been known in New York, assailed Gov. Holden most bitterly and advocated the election of Mr. Worth.

The game of the News and its friends is to fuse the copperhead, disaffected, treasonable elements of the two sections and organize that great democratic party which drove home the entering wedge to all our troubles in the Charleston Convention in 1860. The scheme was very well planned, and had the copperheads carried the northern elections and the southern States had been admitted and the State governments been committed to the hands of the secession leaders, something might have been accomplished in the way of restoring the authors of the rebellion to power and getting up another war; but the triumph of the friends of the government in the northern elections, and the recent instructions of the President to some of the Provisional Governors, spikes the last gun of the enemies of the government. In the north the friends of the government have the disaffected agitators at their feet, while at the south military rule will be continued until the people learn that submission and allegiance to the national authority are conditions necessary to secure the protection of the government. The government does not wish to humiliate the people of the south, but they may humiliate themselves. We can get back in the Union and secure the protection of the national government, on a basis of equality, if we do right; and if we stay out the fault will be our own.

The whole effort of the copperhead press and leaders, north and south, seems to be to induce the world to acknowledge that secession was right and to render treason respectable. If ever the government succeeds in quelling disaffection in the south, the attention of the national authorities should be directed for a while to the north.

If for the Government, Let us Accept its Policy.

The surrender of the South was unconditional. In laying down our arms we accepted the inexorable logic of events and agreed to return to the Union upon such terms as the national authority should impose. We did not believe then, and do not believe now, that those who control the government, or the leaders of the dominant party in Congress, would attempt to degrade or humiliate us, but that they would strive only to restore the Union upon the basis of equality and justice. President Johnson's policy has been extremely lenient, conciliatory and kind, and if the people of the South will conform, cheerfully, to the reasonable requirements made, we shall soon have a restored Union and civil law throughout the land. President Johnson and his advisers and the Republican leaders, backed by the loyal people of the whole country, have the control and management of the government of the United States, and if we are for that government and mean to sustain it, we must accept the policy of those who control and administer it. We can, at once, return to the Union and receive the protection of the government by the acceptance of their policy, but we can accomplish nothing as long as we attempt to set up one of our own. Debts contracted to prosecute the war must go with the "Confederacy," so-called; the negro must be given up and his rights as a freedman acknowledged; and the constitutional amendment must be ratified. All this is but reasonable, to us, and the South should not hesitate to accept it. If we accept the policy of the government we get back into the Union, get rid of martial law, and have civil rule restored; but if we adhere to our prejudices and attempt to dictate to the government, we shall be kept under military rule until our people learn how better to appreciate the leniency and kindness that has been extended them.

In saying that a gentleman who has been elected to Congress cannot take the oath, we suppose no one means a reflection upon such gentlemen. Some of our best, most consistent and strongest Union men cannot take the oath prescribed in the act of 1862, though, if elected and admitted to Congress, they would make good representatives. We opposed the election of such where there were candidates that could take the oath, because we conceived it to be best to comply, as far as possible, with all the requirements of the government; and we have not seen or heard anything to induce us to believe that the oath would be repealed or modified. We know that the best friends of the State, at Washington, were extremely anxious that we should elect those who could take the oath, believing that such result would enhance our chances of admission.

All the districts are not heard from, but, as far as the result is known, we believe no one is elected who can take the oath; and there were not more than three or four candidates, we believe, that could have taken it if elected. We advocated the election of those who declared their ability to take the oath, believing it the best policy; and we thought that good men could have been found that could have taken it, in every district.

Delegation of North Carolinians at the White House.

We find the following, of which we had already given a synopsis in the Progress, in a Washington telegram of the 10th:

To-day members of the late North Carolina Convention and other gentlemen of that State visited the President, when the Hon. Mr. Reade, on behalf of the Convention, over which he had the honor to preside, presented for his favorable consideration certain of its proceedings, saying among other things that the first act of the Convention was to declare her uninterrupted connection with the Union, and that the ordinance of May, 1861, by which she was attempted to be severed, was null and void.

This was done by a vote very nearly approaching unanimity; and thus the first issue of the late war was yielded.

The next thing done was to prohibit slavery, and this was by a unanimous vote; and a committee of able lawyers was provided to prepare wholesome laws for the consideration of the Legislature; and thus the second issue in the late war was yielded.

The convention having yielded what was involved in the war, and being of the opinion that the State was, and always had been in the Union, and that our relations had only been disturbed and not destroyed, respectfully asks your Excellency to declare, on the part of the authorities of the United States, as the State has done on her part, that our governmental relations have been reconciled.

The Convention instructed the Legislature to provide for the payment of the debts of the State, declared all debts contracted in aid of the rebellion to be illegal, and prohibited the payment of the same.

REMARKS OF MR. READE.

We have heard that notwithstanding the State might yield, and as she understands it, has yielded all that was involved in the war, and notwithstanding our people were submissive, well disposed, and anxious for fraternal relations, her delegation in Congress would not be admitted unless they had qualifications not prescribed by the Constitution; that they would be required to take an oath which few men in the State can take, affirming not merely that they are right now but that they have never been wrong.

The exclusion of her delegation upon any such test as is suggested, would be felt by our people universally as such a deep wrong that it would put their strong devotion to the Government and their lively hope of perfect reconciliation to the severest trial.—They can understand the bitterness of strife and the aversion to treason, but they will be confounded at the repulsion of offered friendship and avowed loyalty.

The Convention, therefore, respectfully asks Congress to repeal the test oath.

I have thought it respectful both to you and to Congress, that this request should pass through your hands, with the hope that your Excellency's magnanimity would add to it some reflection which would avail that body.

After further remarks by Mr. Reade, in which he spoke of the confidence reposed in him by North Carolina, the President responded as follows:

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY.

HON. MR. READE: I receive from you with pleasure, a copy of the proceedings of the Convention of North Carolina. I reciprocate cordially the conciliatory spirit in which you have addressed me.

The Convention of North Carolina has done much and well toward restoring the State to her proper natural relations, but something yet remains to be done to render her restoration immediately practicable. An acceptation of the Constitutional amendment abolishing slavery throughout the United States by the Legislature of North Carolina, is in my judgment practically important to the successful restoration which is so much desired by all.

Without answering specifically the questions you have proposed to me, it will be sufficient to say that my action must depend upon events, and that Mr. Holden will be again instructed to continue the exercise of his functions as Provisional Governor until he shall have been expressly relieved by orders to that effect.

More of Wirz.

We gave in yesterday's Progress the details of the execution of Wirz, but the following will be read with interest:

A SINGULAR CABINET RUMOR.

Mr. Schade says he was called upon by several persons last night, as was also Father Boyle, who communicated information purporting to come from a member of the Cabinet, to the effect that if Wirz would acknowledge that Jeff. Davis was connected with the atrocities at Andersonville, his sentence should be commuted.

THE REPLY OF WIRZ IN REGARD TO THE RUMOR.

Although Mr. Schade did not place full confidence in the reports, he considered it to be his duty to relate what the prisoner, at his last conference with him said Captain Wirz, in reply said: Mr. Schade, you know I have always told you that I did not know anything about Jeff. Davis. He had no connection with me as to what was done at Andersonville, and if I knew he had, I would not become a traitor against him or any one else to save my life.

WIRZ'S LAST ACTS.

Among his last acts Capt. Wirz addressed a letter to Mr. O. S. Baker, one of his counsel, in which he remarked he had not said a word that could be construed into a reflection upon him. He merely stated that he had not solicited him as his counsel at first, but accepted of his services cheerfully. He concluded as follows:

"I will say again, as I said before, that I believe you have done all you could for me, and therefore, accept my thanks—the thanks of a dying man."

The following letter was written by Wirz before mounting the gallows:

OLD CAPITOL PRISON, Nov. 10, 1865.

MR. SCHADE:

Dear Sir:—It is no doubt the last time I address myself to you. What I have said to you often and often I repeat: Accept my thanks, my sincere, heartfelt thanks for all you have done for me. May God reward you; I cannot. Still I have something more to ask of you, and I am confident that you will not refuse to receive my dying request. Please help my poor family, my dear wife and children. War, cruel war, has swept every thing from me, and to-day my wife, my children are beggars. My life is demanded as an atonement. I am willing to give it; and I hope that after a while I will be judged differently from what I am now. If any one ought to come to the relief of my family it is the people of the South, for whose sake I have sacrificed all. I know you will excuse me for troubling you again. Farewell, dear sir. May God bless you.

Your thankful H. WIRZ.

"The third interview was on Sunday, October 29. The two exchanged commonplace salutations as before, and indulged in commonplace conversation.—General Baker saw Mrs. Wirz draw off her glove, and saw again the nervous motion of her hand, as though moving something in it which she desired to conceal. As she rose to go she stepped up to Wirz, and, for the first time, made a movement to kiss him. General Baker stood at their side, where he could see the meeting of their lips. It was not a quick, passionate kiss, but General Baker noticed that they occupied a longer time than necessary, and that the movement of their lips was rather peculiar for a kiss. As their lips parted, General Baker was convinced that she had passed something from her mouth into his, and that he was about to swallow it. He sprang towards Wirz and caught him by the throat, partly choking him for the instant. General Baker commanded him to open his mouth, and as he did so he spit out a little ball, which he had partly crushed, and which General Baker picked up. It was somewhat smaller than an acorn, and was ascertained to be strychnine enclosed in oiled silk and coated with licorice. It is now in General Baker's possession. In getting up, Mrs. Wirz had probably dexterously conveyed it to his mouth. In an instant more Wirz would have swallowed it, and as soon as the outside coating had dissolved in his stomach, it would have caused immediate death. Mrs. Wirz was not again allowed to visit his cell."

DEATH OF A BROTHER OF THE PRESIDENT.—The National Intelligencer, of the 11th, says:

"This morning President Johnson received the melancholy intelligence of the death of his only brother, William Johnson, Esq., by an accidental gunshot wound. The deceased held the office of collector of the port of the Velasco, in Texas. He was about sixty-five years of age. We learn that Mr. Johnson was in this city about three months ago, on a visit to his brother. He remained here three weeks. He was born in North Carolina, and left that State with his younger brother, Andrew, for Tennessee, where they both settled.

William Johnson was an industrious mechanic—a house-builder—and a man of great worth, possessing good, sound common sense. Secretary McCulloch appointed Mr. Johnson to the office named above at the time he was there, and he left to execute its duties. The President has no details of the cause of his brother's death, the afflicting fact having been announced, without particulars, in a despatch from E. W. Sheldon, Esq., special agent of the Treasury Department, addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury, having been dated at Galveston on the 14th October, via New Orleans, November 6."

MAKE HASTE SLOWLY.—Under this head the Chicago Republican, a paper affected with negro on the brain, says:

The only certain safety is in delay. Wait till North Carolina is regenerated before you admit her. Wait till a new people and new interests have grown up on her soil. Wait till the rebel debt is forgotten and all thought of repaying it has utterly died out. Or if it is absolutely indispensable that she should be readmitted at once, let her endow with all the franchises of citizenship 350,000 of loyal black people who reside within her borders. They will have no disposition to tax themselves and their children for the payment of a rebel debt which they not only do not hold a dollar of, but regard with instinctive and wholesome hatred. Either establish the principle of universal democracy and justice, and admit white and blacks to the suffrage on the same terms, or else keep the rebel States in a long probation. There is no third alternative; no other means of escaping repudiation in some of its fatal forms, with all the enormous and intolerable evils which will come in its train.

NEGRO TESTIMONY IN GEORGIA.—A correspondent of the National Intelligencer, writing from Milledgeville, says:

"The admission of the testimony of colored persons in the adjudication of questions arising between the two races has been referred to the Legislature. Looking to the inevitable consideration of these questions as in fact provided for by the ordinance just adverted to, there is a disposition upon the part of leading minds to concede the point. The reasoning would seem to be that all objections to the credibility of the witness will be reserved, as also to his moral, civil or religious fitness; if, under these tests, the evidence is deemed valid, it will, like circumstantial testimony, be entitled to consideration. This will be advancing as far as the present status of the negro will justify, and if this be granted it will be an additional proof that there is no disposition to withhold any civil right to which his condition entitles him."

GREELY ON SUPPRESSING NEWSPAPERS.—Speaking of the suppression of newspapers, by military authority, the New York Tribune says:

"We see that the newspapers are discussing the suppression of the Richmond Commercial Bulletin, or rather its restoration, with the proviso that one of its partners shall not remain in the concern. What folly! General Terry has too much sense to spend his time editing Richmond newspapers; and if the Bulletin wants to print absurd articles, let it be a matter between the editor and his readers. General Terry either does too much or too little. He ought to edit the whole Virginia press or leave it alone. We think he had better not meddle with it. Richmond journalism is, at best, harmless reading; and when Generals interfere they merely excite sympathy and strengthen the very cause they desire to weaken. In times of peace keep the sword away from the pen."

Gov. Pardons in the North--The Work of Reconstruction.

The New York Times, of the 10th, says:

Gov. Parsons, of Alabama, has spent several days in this city and in Boston, seeking to ascertain the tone of public sentiment toward the South, and to interest capitalists and others in the development of Southern wealth and prosperity. He urges especially upon Northern men who have movable capital which they seek to invest, the wisdom of going South and joining the owners of large plantations in making them available. There are many men at the South who have large farms, but are utterly unable to work them, for lack of capital. In many respects it is not desirable, for them or for the country, to sell these farms outright to Northern immigrants, as the latter would thus lose the skill and experience essential to their profitable cultivation; but if the Northern capitalists and the Southern land owner would go into partnership, the best material results would be attained, and a harmony of sentiment and opinion would grow up, which would be highly serviceable to the State and the nation at large.

Gov. Parsons does not hesitate to speak with the utmost confidence of the prospective action of the Southern States, upon all the questions involved in the President's policy. In his own State the ordinance of secession has been annulled, and the rebel debt has been repudiated. The Legislature meets on the 20th inst., a week from next Monday, and he is confident it will at once ratify the constitutional amendment and enact such laws as will secure the negroes in the enjoyment of the personal and civil rights without which their freedom from slavery is but a name. The latter he considers absolutely essential to the welfare of both races—quite as important for the whites as for the negroes themselves.

The Governor speaks in terms of unqualified praise of the action and influence of the Freedmen's Bureau in the State of Alabama. Under the judicious and vigorous administration of Gen. Swayne, it is not only doing great good to the recipients of its bounty, but is exerting a most wholesome influence upon the political sentiment of the State. It is impossible for the people, whatever may have been heretofore their feelings toward the Union, to see the Government so lately arrayed against them in arms, and at whose hands they have just sustained so overwhelming a defeat, now feeding half a million of men, women and children, who otherwise must starve, without being profoundly impressed with a sense of its generosity and good will.

Unless Gov. Parsons is greatly mistaken in his views of Southern sentiment, and in his predictions of Southern action, the work of reconstruction will be far easier and more speedy of accomplishment than even the most sanguine have ventured to hope.

BURNING OF THE MUSEUM!
LETTER FROM MR. P. T. BARNUM!
NEW YORK, July 14, 1865.
Messrs. Herring & Co.:
GENTLEMEN—Though the destruction of the American Museum has proved a serious loss to myself and the public, I am happy to verify the old adage that "it's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and, consequently, congratulate you that your well-known safes have again demonstrated their superior fire-proof qualities in an ordeal of unusual severity.
The safe you made for me some time ago was in the office of the Museum, on the second floor, back part of the building, and in the hottest of the fire.
After twenty-four hours of trial it was found among the debris, and on opening it this day has yielded up its contents in very good order—books, papers, policies of insurance, bank bills, all in condition for immediate use, and a noble commentary on the trustworthiness of Herring's Fire-Proof Safes.
Truly yours,
P. T. BARNUM,

The Peace Autumn.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER.

Thank God for rest, where none molest,
And none can make afraid,
For peace that sits as plenty's guest,
Beneath the homestead shade.

Bring pike and gun, the sword's red scourge,
The negro's broken chains,
And beat them, at the blacksmith's forge,
To plowshares for our plains.

Alike, henceforth, our hills of snow
And vales where cotton flowers;
All streams that flow, all winds that blow,
Are Freedom's motive powers.

Henceforth to Labor's chivalry
Be knightly honors paid;
For nobler than the sword's shall be
The sickle's accolade.

Build up an altar to the Lord,
Oh grateful hearts of ours,
And shape it of the greenest sward
That ever drank the showers.

Lay all the bloom of gardens there,
And there the orchard fruits,
Bring golden grain from sun and air,
From earth her goodly roots,

There let our banners droop and flow,
The stars uprise and fall,
Our roll of martyrs, sad and allow,
Let sighing breezes call.

Their names let hands of horn and tan
And rough-shod feet applaud,
Who died to make the slave a man,
And link with toil reward.

There let the common heart keep time
To such an anthem sung
As never swelled on poet's rhyme
Or thrilled on singer's tongue.

Song of our burden and relief,
Of peace and long annoy,
The passion of our mighty grief
And our exceeding joy,

A song of praise to Him who filled
The harvest sown in tears,
And gave each field a double yield
To feed our battle years;

A song of faith that trusts the end
To match the good begun,
Nor doubts the power of Love to blend
The hearts of men as one.

Atlantic Monthly, November.

LETTERS from Havana, dated Nov. 4, convey the surprising and amusing intelligence that the Captain-General, who has so long been conniving at and assisting the African slave-trade, has authorized the formation of a society for its suppression. Every member of this society, which is to be inaugurated Nov. 19, binds himself not to buy any newly imported negroes. When the petition bearing five thousand signatures, asking for the emancipation of the slaves, which was forwarded to Spain some months ago, receives an answer, the Captain-General may possibly be credited with sincerity in this movement.

In consequence of the damage done the crops by the last hurricane, the import duties on corn and rice will be suspended for the next eighteen months.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU for non-retention or incontinence of Urine, Irritation, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Bladder or Kidneys, disease of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel or Brick Dust Deposit, and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys and Dropsical Swellings.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU FOR WEAKNESS ARISING FROM EXCESSES OR INDISCRETION.

The constitution once affected by Organic Weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which Helmbold's Extract Buchu invariably does. If no treatment be submitted to, consumption or insanity may ensue.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

in affections peculiar to females, is unequaled by any other preparation, as in chlorosis or retention, irregularities, painfulness or suppression of customary evacuations, ulceration or scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leucorrhœa, and all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudencies, or in the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH, will radically exterminate from the system diseases of the urinary organs arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, and no exposure, completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiba and Mercury, in curing those unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU

in all cases of the urinary organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, immediate in its action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of bark or iron.

Those suffering from broken down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that however slight may be the attack of the above disease, it is sure to affect his posterity. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

PHYSICIANS, PLEASE NOTICE!

We make no secret of the ingredients. Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu is composed of Buchu, Cubebs and Juniper Berries, selected with great care, and prepared in vacuo by H T HELMBOLD, Druggist and Chemist of sixteen years' experience in the city of Philadelphia, and which is now prescribed by the most eminent physicians, has been admitted to use in the United States army, and is also in very general use in State Hospitals and public Sanitary Institutions throughout the land.
